

Cyberbullying

A cartoon illustration depicting a cyberbullying scenario. On the right, a large, muscular boy with a red cap and orange shirt is shouting aggressively, his mouth wide open showing teeth. He is leaning over a blue computer monitor. On the left, a smaller boy with a green cap and a blue and white striped shirt is sitting on the floor, looking up at the larger boy with a fearful expression. The background is a simple blue frame around the monitor.

An illustration showing a young boy on the left and a large man on the right. The boy is wearing a green cap, a blue and white striped shirt, and brown shorts. He is sitting on the floor, looking towards the man with a nervous expression. The man is wearing a red cap and an orange shirt, and is sitting on a blue stool, looking back at the boy with a stern, angry expression. A blue rectangular frame is visible behind the man. A blue text box is overlaid on the scene, containing the text: "Mas não tinha coragem para contar a ninguém, com medo de agravar a situação...".

Mas não tinha
coragem para contar
a ninguém, com
medo de agravar a situação...

E quando
finalmente
teve...

Já era
tarde
demais!

Suicidou-se!

A graphic featuring a red octagonal sign with the text "STOP CYBER BULLIES" in white. To the right of the sign is a red telephone handset. Below the sign and handset is the "SchoolReach" logo, which includes the text "SchoolReach" and "Instant Parent Contact" with a small yellow signal icon above the word "Reach".

Temos de acabar com isto porque por vezes pode ter um fim drástico.....

O FIM SE APROXIMA
